SENATE AND HOUSE.

Doings of Both Branches of Congress.

BOTH BODIES HARD AT WORK.

Senator Voorhees Introduces a Bill to Relieve the Money Stringency—Nineteen Million Dollars to Be Added to the Amount Now in Circulation—Silver Deposited in the House.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—Just after the senate had assembled Senator Voorhees (Dem., Ind.) introduced a bill authorizing the issue of national bank notes to the full value of bonds deposited. It reads as follows:

Be it enacted, etc., That upon any deposit already or hereafter made of any United States bonds bearing interest, in the manner required by law, any national banking association, which has made or shall hereafter make the same, shall be entitled to receive from the comptroller of the currency circulating notes of different denominations in blank, registered and countersigned as provided by law, not exceeding in the whole amount in circulating notes thus issued the par value of the bonds deposited; provided, that at no time shall the total amount of such notes issued to any such association exceed the amount at such time actually paid in as its capital stock.

Accompanying the bill was the following letter from Secretary Carlisle:

TREASURY DEPARTMENT,
OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY,
WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.

Hon. D. W. Voorhees:
MY DEAR SIR—Your favor of the 10th inst., inclosing form of a bill, to provide for the issuing of circulating notes to national banks, and asking the views of the secretary of the treasury as to the advisability of its passage, is received. The enactment of such a law as proposed would enable the national banks to issue and put in circulation at once, on bonds already deposited with the treasurer of the United States, about $19,000,000 in currency, in addition to the amount now authorized; and this, in my opinion, would afford a very considerable measure of relief to the country under existing circumstances. I therefore recommend the passage of the bill. Respectfully yours,

J. G. CARLISLE, Secretary.

The bill was referred to the committee on finance.

Mr. Perkins (Cal.) presented various memorials from the San Francisco chamber of commerce for the enactment of a substitute for the purchasing clause of the Sherman act; for the annexation of the Hawaiian Islands, and in favor of the Nicaragua canal.

Mr. Mitchell (Or.) gave notice of an amendment to be offered to a joint resolution to maintain the parity of gold and silver, that no change shall be made in the tariff laws during the Fifteenth congress.

Mr. Teller offered a bill to send the McGarrahian claim to the court of private land claims—referred to the judiciary committee.

Mr. Hill offered a resolution declaring it to be the sense of the senate that no legislation other than legislation pertaining to the finances shall be considered at the present extraordinary session of congress. Laid on the table.

Mr. Hoar (Mass.) gave notice that he would call up the resolution as to the Montana senatorial case, and would, after Wednesday, press it to a conclusion to the exclusion of all other business.

Mr. Vest (Mo.) called up the resolution offered by him last Tuesday, declaring that the American people favor bimetallism and the free and unlimited coinage of both gold and silver, without discriminating against either metals; that it is also the established policy of the United States to maintain the parity of the two metals so that the debt-paying and purchasing power of every dollar shall be at all times equal; that it is the duty of congress to speedily enact such laws as will effectuate and maintain these objects.

Before beginning his speech in support of the resolution Mr. Vest had read the declarations in the Republican and Democratic platforms on the subject of silver, in order to show that both parties were practically agreed on that question. He said that it was time for the people of the United States to know whether politics were a juggle and a fraud, or whether the solemn declaration of parties were worthy the confidence of a free people.

Taking up the Sherman act, Mr. Vest spoke of it as a houseless and homeless legislative dog with no one even to give a bone and without being able to find a kennel in which to hide its dishonored head. And, nevertheless, he would vote against its repeal without a guarantee as solemn as the great necessity of the people, that silver shall exist in the United States as the money metal. He had been known as the firm and unshaking friend of the president of the United States, and has in all his campaign speeches in Missouri declared Mr. Cleveland to be a bimetallist, like himself; and that they only differed in reference to the ratio. He had had the right to make that statement, because Mr. Cleveland had accepted the nomination on a platform which pledged the Democratic party to bimetallism. It had been as well known that the Democratic party stood on the doctrine of bimetallism as that it had met in Chicago and nominated Grover Cleveland for the presidency. He did not undertake to say, now that the president was opposed to bimetallism, or that he would not give his executive sanction to a measure to coin silver at a commercial ratio with gold; but he did undertake to say that the president's message was most significant for what it failed to say.

Mr. Vest spoke of the unfortunate condition of the miners of the west; and said that the somewhat dramatic remark of an ex-senator recently that in the extreme west the people were crying for bread, and that in New York they were crying for gold, was literally true.

In conclusion Mr. Vest repelled the idea of there being a necessity for international agreement on the subject of silver.

At the close of his speech, Mr. Hoar (Mass.) obtained the floor; and, then, after a short executive session the senate, at 4:30, adjourned.

In the House.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—In the house the speaker announced the following committee appointments:

Enrolled bills—Messrs. Pearson, chairman; Russell of Georgia, Delmer, Hines, Hager, Adams and Gillett of New York.

Accounts—Messrs. Rusk, chairman; Paynter, Tate, Mutchler, Ikert, Wells, Post, Wright (Mass.) and Marvin.

Mileage—Messrs. Lynch, chairman; Strait, Pendleton (Tex.) and Mahon.

The silver debate was then resumed. Mr. Boatner (Dem., La.) making the initiative speech. He spoke from a silver standpoint and charged that the advocates of the Wilson bill—the gold men of the Democratic and Republican parties—were responsible for the excitement which had created the destruction of public confidence and which had caused the run upon banking institutions. He declared that the Democratic party had pledged itself to bimetallism, leaving nothing for congress to do except fix the ratio, and insisted that the party should fulfill its pledges.

Mr. Layton (Dem., Ohio) said he would vote for the bill under consideration for the repeal of the purchasing clause of the Sherman bill, relying upon the good faith of the Democratic administration and the Democratic congress that in the coming regular session some permanent legislation would be enacted that would give all our people some suitable money worth a dollar all the world round.

Mr. Patterson (Dem., Tenn.) advocated the repeal of the purchasing clause and criticised the amendments proposed to the pending measure.

Mr. Bailey (Dem., Tex.) followed Mr. Patterson in a speech advocating the Bland free coinage substitute for the Wilson repeal bill. Speaking of the effect upon the country of the passage of the Wilson bill, Mr. Bailey said it would lead at once to a scramble for gold by all the nations of the earth, reducing the price of property to be exchanged for that gold to a lower figure than ever before known in the history of the world and precipitating a universal panic.

Mr. Mr. Patterson (Dem., W. Va.) said that he was satisfied that the only way that a parity could be brought about between silver and gold, was for the country to come in accord with the other commercial nations of the world; and when that was done, the promise of the Democratic national platform would be kept.

Mr. Lacey (Rep., Ia.) spoke in favor of an amendment which he proposed to offer if he had an opportunity, providing the Wilson act should not take effect until the silver circulation should be increased to $700,000,000.

Mr. Patterson (Dem., N. Y.) said that he would first vote for the repeal of the purchase clause of the Sherman act, and next he would vote for the coinage of gold and silver on a parity. But these metals must be of the same intrinsic value. If there ever was a pledge made by any party, this Democratic pledge was sacred and plain.

When silver men came and asked congress to inaugurate a new and hopeless scheme which had already damned the business of the country, he must object. (Applause).

Mr. Hutchinson (Dem., Tex.) made a humorous speech in favor of the coinage of silver; but before he concluded the house, at 5 o'clock, adjourned.

BIG LOSS AT STEUBENVILLE, O.

Two Hundred Thousand Dollars' Worth of Property Destroyed—During the Fire a Prominent Merchant is Murdered and Robbed—Destructive Forest Fires in Wisconsin and Michigan—Other Fire Losses.

STEUBENVILLE, O., Aug. 15.—This city was visited by the worst fire in its history yesterday afternoon, which caused a loss of $200,000. Over a half a block of the business center was burned. During the progress of the fire a merchant in another part of the city was murdered and robbed of $115.

The fire broke out at 2:15 o'clock in Lindsay's livery stable. Mr. Lindsay was preparing hoof oil. He poured turpentine over this mixture which caught fire and soon the stable was in flames. A strong wind was blowing at the time, and an insulation at water supply hampered the fire department. While the fire was at its worst, the news of the murder of Johnathan Ferree, a hatter, in his store on Market street, caused great excitement. Charles Lowe, a bookkeeper and cousin of Ferree's, went into his store to purchase several articles. A dispute grew into a quarrel and blows were struck. Finally Lowe grabbed a hatchet and struck Ferree three times on the head. He left him lay on the floor and took $115 from the money drawer. Lowe then went to a hotel, washed and changed his clothing, and fled. Ferree was found lying in a pool of blood by his wife. He can not recover. Lowe has not yet been apprehended.

At the Cook county and Mercy hospitals six others are moaning with pain in the wards so badly injured as to be unable to tell their names.

The fire started in the office of the hotel, and is supposed to have been caused by the overturning of an oil lamp. By the time that the night clerk had discovered that the building was on fire the flames were climbing from the starting point on the second floor up the stairway to the third floor, and smoke was pouring from the windows.

Supposed Incendiary Fire.

CELINA, O., Aug. 15.—Fire broke out in the rear of Wehn & Roberts' steam laundry on Fayette street, and nothing but the heroic work of the fire department and citizens saved the town. The fire completely destroyed the laundry, machinery and building, sweeping to the adjoining room occupied by H. H. Guy's grain and feed store, then to Newcomb Brothers' feedroom, almost taking the 2-story business block of H. & J. Pulskamp, which was damaged to the extent of several hundred dollars. The dwelling of Newcomb was next destroyed. There was no insurance except on Pulskamp's building. Total loss about $10,000. Supposed incendiary.

Flour Mills Burned.

DENVER, Aug. 15.—A fire which started shortly after noon totally destroyed the Crescent flour mill and elevator at Stanton avenue and Montgomery street. Both buildings were the property of the Colorado Milling and Elevator company, of which K. Muller is president. The total loss, including a large quantity of flour and grain, is $25,000 to $30,000. The insurance is about 75 per cent of the loss. During the fire Lieutenant McLean was terribly injured by an explosion in the dust mill and may die.

These words seem to be reverberating around from all sorts and conditions of mouths, regardless of political complexions. It shows that a single touch of patriotism makes members of all political parties akin."

Edward Adams a bright boy aged thirteen, son of Edward Adams, a prominent Lewis County farmer, accidentally shot and killed himself on Sunday, while watching a watermelon patch. Stricken Crazy While Exhorting.

A special sent out from Vanceburg says: "Rev. Richard Cooley was brought before a jury on a writ of lunatico inquirendo. Last week while holding a revival on the classic waters of Kinconick, he suddenly became insane. His insanity was not perceptible for some time, as the people were wound up to the highest pitch of religious frenzy. Not until he leaped into the air and fell prostrate, gnashing his teeth and foaming at the mouth, was it discovered that he was 'not right in the head.' He was at once seized upon by two members, one being a powerful man. It required six strong men to hold him. While the jury was trying his case Saturday morning he arose several times and endeavored to preach. He will be confined in the Anchorage Asylum."

The L. and N. Pay Car.

It is announced that the Louisville and Nashville Railway Company is ready for pay day. As the company's lines cover a territory reaching from the Ohio to the gulf and from Pensacola to St. Louis, this announcement is one which ought to be of wide interest in the South, and which should bring joy to the hearts of thousands. The number of names on the pay roll of the Louisville and Nashville is about 17,000; it may safely be assumed that all of these will begin spending money after the pay car arrives, and so there will be so much currency of the United States set circulating through the veins of the body financial.

It is the honorable boast of the Louisville and Nashville Railway Company that only once in twenty-five years past has pay day been deferred. The single instance occurred in 1873, and the delay did not exceed a fortnight. The secret of the financial health, so exceptional at this time, which this company enjoys, is in the fact that, not only are the receipts of the road good, but the depositories of its funds are both numerous and well chosen. Some of its funds are kept in St. Louis and in New Orleans banks, and it is well known that these are among the cities which have escaped almost unharmed amid the widespread disaster of this year.

The three pay cars, from Louisville, Evansville and St. Louis, respectively, will start one day this week. None of them will begin the journey loaded with all the money to be disbursed on the trip; they will stop at intervals to renew the precious burden they have to distribute.

Sunday Killing.

Sunday afternoon near Carlisle, a most cold blooded and unprovoked murder occurred. Saturday night, John Howard left Carlisle in a drunken condition, but had not proceeded far, when he fell from his horse and fractured his skull, dying Sunday morning. In the afternoon Sam went to Howard's house armed with a double barrel shot gun with the intention of killing his wife who was domiciled at Howard's house. Will Curry a neighbor was at the house and expostulated with Smith, appealing to him on account of the fact that a corps lay in the house, and to go away without a disturbance, this Smith refused to do and said I will kill you. Smith then raised his gun and poured the contents of both barrels into Curry's breast, death resulting instantly.

Mason County Teachers Assembled at the High School Building.

Short Talks by Prof. A. L. Peterman and Sup't Blatterman—Enrollment of Teachers.

The Mason County Teachers' Institute convened at the High School Building in this city Monday, August 14, and was called to order by Superintendent G. W. Blatterman. After scripture reading there was prayer by Prof. Buffington.

Prof. A. L. Peterman, of Lexington, was introduced to the institute by Superintendent Blatterman, and made some very pleasant remarks.

Superintendent Blatterman arose and after making some timely and appropriate remarks read notes on the changes which have lately been made in the school laws, after which the institute adjourned until 1:45 p. m.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The institute was called to order by Superintendent Blatterman, and was opened with singing.

Prof. Peterman then proceeded to deliver his opening address, in which he indicated the purpose of the institute which was illustrated with a diagram. He then spoke of the necessities of this institute, and named some of the necessities, which are as follows: First, promptness; second, attention, and third, good intentions.

After an intermission of ten minutes and a song, the regular work by the programme and syllabus was taken up by Prof. Peterman, introducing the first subject psychology, which was treated in a very able manner and at considerable length. A song and the institute adjourned for the day, to meet at 8:45 on Tuesday morning.

They alleged that the convicts are being worked outside of the prison walls without authority, and ask relief from the Board of Sinking Fund Commissioners.

ANDERSON M. WADDILL, probably the richest and most successful sporting man in the South, died at his home in Louisville Saturday. He was a native of Alabama, but had lived in Louisville since 1864. He was a book-maker, pool-room owner and gambling house proprietor, and made and accumulated money from all his ventures. He left a large estate.

A LAFAYETTE (Ind.) preacher has stirred up a hornets' nest in his congregation. Last Sunday he said: "God made the earth in six days and then he rested, then he made man and rested again; then he made woman, and since that time neither God nor man has had a rest. Dozens of women left the church, and, it is said, actual disruption is imminent. And 'twould serve the impudent pastor right too; all women aren't lady managers of the World's Fair, and shouldn't be so judged."

THE following is from an article in the exposition number of Demorest's Magazine: "Kentucky's room in the Woman's Building at the exposition is replete with interest for all students of colonial days. In construction and decorations it takes one back to pre-revolutionary times, and it is filled with historic relics and souvenirs. There is a chair over 300 years old, often used by Elder Brewster, of Plymouth colony fame. The solid mahogany furniture has descended in time-honored families, and many pieces are associated with the great men of the past."
